PREFACE

Education is a life long process and a long term investment. It should therefore be planned very carefully. The best approach is to take into account the existing situation and facts and then proceed with future planning. It is now well recognized that the various kinds of educational facts are needed in time for effective administration, planning and policy making. But one of the major problems being faced by educational planners and administrators in Pakistan is the lack of adequate and reliable statistics. In addition, many of those involved in educational planning and management at the local and institutional levels lack skill in preparation of suitable statistical profiles.

One of the most impressive developments in contemporary society has been the vast growth of research into all aspects of human development. Increasingly, statistical models are used as a basis for gaining insight and making decisions for the long term planning.

The inadequacy of the statistical base on education becomes all more evident for the data-users. It is impossible to compute exact educational indicators viz, enrolment ratios, pupils-teacher ratios, flow rates and degree of efficiency etc, in the education system except as rough approximations of varying degree of precision.

It is the responsibility of educational planners, administrators and teachers to streamline the methodology and usage of statistical data to determine the indicators for the diagnosis in education system. Without making available to Government and decision makers accurate statistics and information and the various aspects of education, demography and resources, the magnitude of our educational wastage will continue to grow and persist.

The Academy of educational planning & Management has conducted its fourth School Education Census in 1995-96. It is responsible to collect data on education from Federal Areas (AJK, FATA, FANA and ICT) and also consolidate provincial data to produce national picture.

Broadly, the data in this document provides information about the number of educational institutions in Pakistan, their enrolment, number of teachers, for education at various levels and physical facilities. The necessary statistical diagrams/charts are also developed and mentioned in this document. We hope researchers, educational planners, administrators and others concerned will find it a useful publication.

The Academy of educational planning & Management expresses its thanks to the Provincial EMISs, Federal Areas EMISs units and all those who cooperated and assisted in the compilation of this document.
